"Shri Ganeshaye Namah"

With the blessing of
Lord Ganesha and Maa Kali
I begin to write this book which may serve
The readers to rediscover the financial markets
By learning the wisdom of astrology
I dedicate this book to
My mother Smt. Indrani Bandyopadhyay
And my father Shri Debabrata Bandyopadhyay
For giving me the best education
And helping me to achieve knowledge and expertise
In the field of astrology and the stock markets
And for their constant support and encouragement
During the days of my professional struggle
Which gave me the courage to write this book.

Preface

Stock Market Astrology is an elaborate and descriptive work based on my aggressive research on the study of astrological influences on the financial markets and stock prices. This book has been written after two decades of my hard work, research and professional experience in the field of astrology, and after the 11 years of dedicated aggressive research in the application of astrological principles in predicting the stock markets.

This book contains a detailed and systematic study of the astrological principles, which I have learned from my father, who in his turn has learned them from my grandfather, who was a High School Principal in Calcutta and a learned scholar of astrology of his time, having many followers in the city, during the period of pre-independence and post-independent India. With the application of these principles I have been able to successfully predict the direction of the stock markets and the rise and fall in the stock prices for years.

Language of the book is kept such a simple and all the complex astrological principles were explained in such a simple manner that anyone with little knowledge of astrology can easily grasp these principles and can tactfully apply them for predicting the business cycles, periods of economic crisis, panic, recessionary periods and the direction of the individual stock prices in the markets successfully or use them accordingly for trading in the stock markets themselves and ensure the profitability for themselves and their clients.

Stock Markets are considered as the barometer of the economy of any country. One can evaluate the economic condition of any country by closely keeping eye on the stock markets of that country. Good performing stock markets are the sign of a healthy
